

A Cagey Bee is the art studio of painter Kris G. Brownlee, whose cute & quirky paintings are adored by curious souls around the world. Starting with an Etsy shop in 2008, then selling my work at craft fairs & markets like Granville Island, my line of robots, animals, & big-eyed girls has been a proven delight for both kids & adults seeking something unique. I've learned firsthand what people like, don't like & most importantly - what they actually end up buying!

With the help of my husband, A Cagey Beard, my whimsical characters are turned into paper prints, glossy art blocks, magnets, pins, & lockets. Handmade in Vancouver, BC, I hope my work will spark joy & imagination every time you see it.
